The most important review all major reviews › Sultan1.0 from 5 stars I never disappointed until now, reviewed in the US on October 26, 2015Update: A response from AtmosFX about the message I sent their support staff on my 3DFX form: First, let me start by saying I love your video. I have many and will continue to buy your digital effects in the future. Having said that, I am deeply dissatisfied with the 3DFX form from reviews on your website (including Amazon), I'm not the only one, because it can't be returned, can you get some refunds or at least a credit to another product? I'll continue to buy your video effects, but I won't pre-order again and will stick to the next digital product. Response from AtmosFX: Thank you for sending us that comment. We appreciate what you say and take note of the issues you report. We look forward to avoiding these issues with our next version of 3DFX! Thanks again. We love our fans who are honest with us! Pre-order this item directly from AtmosFX, I rate it twice on their site because I want them to benefit from the doubt. I have. In their videos and I use it every year. On this item, I paid about $20.00 for delivery. I wish I could order this from Amazon. I may get free shipping, but more importantly, I can return it. Now I'm stuck with it because AtmosFX doesn't give you a refund. Here's a review I posted on their website: In the last few years, I've used four or five different AtmosFX videos. I've never been disappointed until now. Considering that I paid a total of $77.24 (including shipping). I'm expecting higher quality props. I can make this job, but it's never worth the money. If you can buy this on eBay for about $20.00, it might be worth while you're in the right place. Otherwise, steer clear of this one. I like the video, but AtmosFX really missed this mark. Hi, I'm looking to have a go in creating my own Atmosfx 3dfx model and I wonder if anyone has either and can give a size or have created one that can tell me how they created it of any size.
